BOSTON January 1, 1835

I have had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia have suffered much pain and wanted a skillful workman in order to accommodate to the peculiarities of their cases I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr F Foster to supply the deficiencies occasioned by the death of Mr Heath. After a close observation of his work I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments and in various ways in accommodating them to the variety of cases which occur I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants.

JOHN C WARREN M D Boston

CERTIFICATE The following certificate is from Professor Stuart, of Andover Theological Seminary

The subscribed having occasion to employ Mr Frederick Foster, of Boston, in making and fitting Trusses for the relief of Hernia, takes great pleasure in recommending him to the favorable notice of such persons as may be afflicted with this or similar complaints. Mr Foster's success in the manufacture and adapting them to the body, giving ease and comfort to the wearer, surpass (as far as our experience goes,) any other manufacturer of the article.

The numerous testimonials which he has received, together with the recommendations of that most eminent surgeon, Dr J C Warren as a sufficient security for all who may favor Mr F. that his instruments will give entire satisfaction, and he will satisfy all reasonable demands for an equitable remuneration.

Bank Note Protection.

A new plan to prevent Fraud by the Alteration of Bank Notes from low to higher denominations.

The Notes are divided into two classes

CLASS FIRST embraces the denominations of one two three four and five dollars. These are distinguished by stripe at the right ends of the notes composed of geometric lathe work and running to words the centre the number of stripes corresponding with the amounts of the notes. Thus a stripe for one dollar two stripes for two dollars and so on, and upon the centre of these stripes a large figure, readily seen, designates the denomination of each note. In this class of notes, there are no borders on the left ends—which are occupied by vignettes and other work. The President's name will be placed under and near the right end strip work on all notes of this class, and that of the Register or some other name above it thus protecting the strip work from alteration—no place being left for adding another strip either above or below the signatures.

CLASS SECOND embraces the denominations of ten twenty fifty, one hundred and five hundred dollars. On these the whole arrangement is reversed. The strips of lathe work (different from those used on the other class of notes) commence at the left ends and run towards the centre the vignettes and other work being upon the right. On this class the signatures are placed under the strip work and half of the Register directly over it, they are being separated by one strip on a ten dollar note by two on a twenty three on a fifty four on a hundred and by five strips upon a five hundred dollar note presenting a perfect contrast between the two classes of notes.

Any person acquainted with the plan could not be deceived by any alteration of any one of these notes in existence, from one denomination to another. The plan is a simple one as becomes manifest almost at a glance from a examination of the notes, for although so many lines are required to describe it in words the pictorial description is very short and easily understood and remembered. The inventor JAMES A WATER, Esq of New Haven Conn has secured his invention by having it entered at the Patent Office at Washington and has made an arrangement with DANFORTH WRIGHT & CO, exclusively, for its use upon Bank Notes.

Besides the protection against the alteration of the denominations of Bank Notes afforded to banks and the public by this plan a very great security against counterfeiting is also afforded by use of the geometric lathe work of which dies are composed, and which cannot be fully imitated either with any other machine, or with the graver.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF

PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS ASTHMA BRONCHITES GENERAL DEBILITY, AND ALL SCROFULOUS HUMORS

THE Proprietor has succeeded (from directions of Professor Stone,) in combining the Oil and Lime so perfectly that the taste of the Oil, which is so nauseous to persons generally, is entirely overcome and it can be taken by the most delicate females with pleasure. And as regards the benefit of this article over the clear oil, the following case, by Prof Stone, is sufficient to convince the most skeptical. The young lady was twenty four years of age.

"Pulmonary disease was one of unmixed phthisic which had been expected to terminate in the course of a few months fatally. The upper part of both her lungs were filled with tubercles, and in some places were beginning to soften. The case was evidently a bad one. The treatment of Cod Liver Oil was at first used but without marked improvement. The Phosphate of Lime was then administered with the oil, and the result, as in the case of many others, was soon apparent. The patient was rapidly getting well."

CAUTION—On account of the great reputation of this Compound for all Lung complaints, the subscriber would caution the afflicted against using any except that manufactured by him, as he has the only recipe in the United States for combining the pure Oil with lime in proper manner. Therefore as you value your health, purchase none except that manufactured by

MRS JANE

FLORENCE AND ITS ENVIRONS—ITS RENOWN AND ITS HOME

Messrs Editors:—As I am sometimes enable to write at the time of visiting places and objects, I can only attempt to do it upon the first subsequent opportunity of recording my observations. The present letter therefore, though dated at Rome, will be found up with what came under my notice or rather with a part of what was in the city of Florence. The city of Florence is the pride of the duchy of Tuscany, situated on both sides of the Arno, which is spanned by four beautiful bridges. Surrounded by the villas which adorn the adjacent plain, with sloping hills and lofty mountains in the distance, it must be conceded that, in the means of its natural position, at least, Florence justifies the eulogies which have often been bestowed upon it. And the beauty of the city itself, though it has lost something of its former splendor, corresponds well with the dignity of its situation.

The Florentine traces their history back to the time of the old Romans. And in support of this view they refer to the fact, that they are mentioned in the annals of Tacitus as having sent an embassy to Rome in relation to some matters which concerned their city. But their brilliant period, he period in which they have commanded their full share of the notice and admiration of the world commences with the year 1250, when they arose and overthrew the nobles who had tyrannized over them and established the Florentine Republic. Before this time they were subjects, and were treated as slaves, but, in the expressive language of one of their chronicles they then constituted themselves a people.

The Florentines, whatever may have been their origin, are a select and noble race of men. I had no sooner entered their streets than I was struck with their appearance,—quite different from the people of some other cities which I had visited. Their well built forms and expressive countenances marked by thought and lofty independence, harmonized well with the idea that they were the descendants of a race who have achieved an honorable place in the records of men. Interesting in their political history which shows their love of freedom, they are equally so in their relation to the development of the arts and in the contributions to literature. Works of art exclusive of public buildings which display the grandeur of architecture, are found everywhere—in their palaces churches, public squares and private residences. Peculiar circumstances, which is the business of the historian to unfold, gave this direction to the inventive capacity of the people. In the splendid edifices, however, which are the chief attraction on the first entrance into the city. The cities and States of Italy have vied with each other in the erection of public buildings particularly those designed for religious worship, and although as Protestants we may well question their adopted fitness in many cases to the purpose for which they were built we cannot withhold our admiration from the genius which planned and persevering energy which completed them. One of the most remarkable of these magnificent buildings is the Cathedral of Florence. In accordance with the spirit of the city, which was desirous of erecting an edifice superior to any other then existing the foundations were laid in 1298, and genius and skill, and labor and wealth contributed to complete it. It is 454 feet in length, with a transept of 330 feet, and its height from the pavement to the summit of the cross by which it is surmounted, is about 387 feet. The walls on the outside are cased with marble. The dome is said to be the largest in the world, and served as a model to Michael Angelo in building that of St Peters. It is a grand building, commenced as the time I have mentioned, was not entirely completed till the year 1111. Its interior is adorned with statues, bas reliefs frescoes, and sepulchral monuments some of them in the judgment of artists works of great merit, but the pleasure in seeing them is somewhat diminished in consequence of their being so limly revealed to the visitor by the feeble rays of light which fall through the small stained windows.—Among the monuments in the cathedral is that of Brunelleschi the great architect who built its dome and who was buried here at the expense of the republic.

There is also a fine statue of Brunelleschi on the south side of the square of the cathedral, and near it the stranger is pointed to the spot, designated by an inscription, where Dante used to sit and occupy his imaginative mind in contemplating the vast edifice.

Among the numerous other churches which adorn the city of Florence, there is much interest on in the old Franciscan church of Santa Croce. It was in the square of this church that the people assembled and took their decisive measures in the republican revolt of 1250. But to me this ancient and renowned edifice was an object of especial attraction, because, in common with every traveler who visits Florence, I here looked upon the tomb of Michael Angelo. The body which was once the residence of a mind of almost unequalled capacity, reposes here. His tomb is ornamented with allegorical figures of the sister arts of architecture, painting and sculpture, in all of which he excelled. The marble bust, which retains the form that is crumbling beneath it, is regarded as a faithful likeness of him. In this church, which is sometimes spoken of as the Westminster Abbey of Florence, Marsuppine was buried, the secretary of the republic at an early period, and one of its eloquent and distinguished men. Here also are sepulchral monuments to Galileo, Dante and Alfieri. The portrait of Dante was placed here by a decree of the republic in 1465. But the large and splendid monument to him, to which I have just referred, has been recently erected at the public expense.

It is evident that Florence cherishes the memory of her great poet,—great as compared with the poets of any other age or nation, and yet unlike all other poets. A country is nothing without its great names. And there are so many reminiscences of Dante here, that it may not be out of place to say something in relation to him. If no writer can be properly understood and interpreted, separate from his age and country, this is especially the case with this remarkable poet. His conceptive power, which enabled him to imagine and to describe with so much exactness, was his own; but the subjects, upon which he exercised it, belonged to the incidents of his age, people and religion. I never could well understand before, how a writer, no matter how great or how essentially his genius, could think of going through hell, purgatory and paradise, with a view to ascertain the locality, if I may so express it, of the spirits of the dead, and to announce to the world their respective degrees of reward and punishment, of hope and despair. But these ideas, (I mean ideas which dealt with the precipices of actual disembodied destiny,) were the ideas of the age of Dante. A man could not die, if he did not

Rhymes with Reason and without. By B.P. Shillaber. Boston: Abel Tompkins and B. B. Mussey & Co. 1853.

This is a handsome volume, very neatly dedicated to Col. Charles G Greene, editor of the Boston Post, with whom the author of the work is now associated. Mr. Shillaber has in this volume collected his various poetical productions, which have delighted many readers, as they appeared in the columns of newspapers; they now appear in a graceful family, clothed and in their right mind, and in a home of their own, and of which they are well worthy.

The volume is embellished with a portrait, in order to meet the numerous calls for the lineaments of "Mrs. Partington" who has caused so much pleasant fun in our world by her quaint conceits, so very queerly expressed

Dr Grant and the Mountain Nestorians. By Rev Thomas Laurie, surviving associate in that Mission Boston Gould & Lincoln 1853

The title of this work is sufficient to awaken the attention of every one familiar with the history of Missions, a history not yet sufficiently appreciated for the contributions it has made to science and art and commerce as well as to religion The expectation awakened by the title will be realized in the contents, as we find a good portrait, a map of the country and several illustrations, together with a full memoir of Dr Grant whose zeal and labors in the missionary cause were so prominent and useful This volume gives an addition to the geographical knowledge of the country and unfolds very much of interest relative to the Nestorians and the mission in their behalf

Thom Australia By way of San Francisco, we have a month's later advices from Australia; The dates from Melbourne are to Feb 16, Hobart Town Feb, 26, and Sydney February 8

The gold fever rages as high as at any former period The most important intelligence comes from the Southern border diggings where exceedingly rich mines have been discovered

The Melbourne gold circular gives the prices of gold at 75s 2d At Sydney, flour has advanced to £23 per ton

Accounts of prodigious lumps of gold are given It is asserted that a lump weighing 180 pounds had been found at the Ballarat diggings A party of four, who had been two weeks in the colony, had found a lump weighing 1,619 ounces, and had sailed for England with their treasure

The produce of the Victoria mines to the 5th of February is $19 373,377

The Melbourne Circular quotes exchange on London, drafts against gold hypothecated, 50s to 55s per ounce, two per cent discount

Diggers at the New Zealand mines were making a pound a day

A Melbourne paper has the following

Socially, our condition is about the same as at the date of our previous summary Yet there is a great deal of interest in watching the singular progress day by day—Ten thousand souls were added to our population last month Houses are still an insatiable tenta extravagant in high, social discomforts very numerous and crime prevalent The social aspect as it strikes a person newly arrived must be confessed to be far from attractive

Hence, it is not unreasonable for such persons to feel an indignant conviction of having been imposed upon when told of the wealth and comfort to be gained here We constantly receive letters from new comers complaining of having been deceived by misrepresentations, and even charging us as parties to the deception The truth is, it is the ignorance, the thoughtlessness or the impatience of immigrants that are really the cause of discontent and failure Men must accommodate themselves to the most terrible circumstances of the place when they escape hence—They must help themselves. They must work

Instead of complaining of the difficulties and discomforts that meet them upon landing they must quietly endure them, and bravely struggle through them There is room for every man who will and can work In a land where gold can be picked up in large masses, where destitution is impossible for any person who exercises even a small share of energy, it is ridiculous for persons to be grumbling about hardships and privations. Once for all, we advise no person to come to Victoria who is not prepared both to work hard and suffer some inconveniences.

☞ The Senate of Massachusetts has rejected the bill granting aid to the project of the tunnelling of the Hoosac mountain This decision is thought to be adverse to the general sentiment of the people.

☞ The compound Sarsaparilla, advertised by Ambrose Warren, is free from alcohol, and is a very desirable medicine, prepared with great skill, and is becoming highly popular

☞ The anniversaries of the great religious and benevolent associations of New England are held this week in Boston, and prove of great interest

☞ The largest ship in Maine is now being built at Damariscotta, by Col. Cyrus Cotter.—Her keel is 206 feet, she is to be full clipper model, and to register 2200 tons.

☞ Capital and copious rains lately—good for the grass and for the lumbermen.

The "Shepherd of the Valley," a Romon Catholic newspaper published under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Bishop of St. Louis, says that "if the Catholics ever gain, which they surely will do, though at a distant day, an immense numerical majority, religious freedom in this country is at an end. So say our enemies. So we believe."

Why is a horse half way through a gate like a half-penny? Because there is a head on one side, and a tail on the other.

Begin Early.

We have all seen, in records daily passing before us, of the life of the distinguished statesman for whom the nation is in mourning, frequent references to his early years, and we think there is reason to believe, that his religious training, under the parental roof, was thorough and enduring in its impressions.

We love to hold out to parents the encouragement which such facts give—and they are by no means rare. Just now we stood by the dying bed of an interesting, young, accomplished woman—an actress She had evidently been seeking the Saviour earnestly for a long while, and we trust she found him, 'whom to know is life eternal.' We inquired as to her views and feelings, and were suprised at the intelligence manifested in her felicitous expressions. We inquired as to her early childhood, and with the deepest emotion, she quickly responded, as if those halcyon days were directly in her view, with all their beauty and hope—Oh, that I had always lived in conformity to my early education.—Until eight years of age, I was with my kind parents—pious Presbyterian people, who instructed me at home, and conducted me to the Sabbath school and the sanctuary From that time, I lived in far different circumstances and have given way to the evil influences surrounding me' She could say no more The contrast between those eight years and the twelve or fifteen that had followed, was too much for her to think of

After a while she said, 'All my hope is in the mercy of our God through our Lord Jesus'

Economy in a Family There is nothing, says a good writer, which goes so far towards placing young people beyond the reach of poverty, as economy in the management of their domestic affairs. It matters not whether a man furnishes much or little for his family, if there is a continual leakage in his kitchen or in the parlor it runs away he knows not how, and that demon Waste cries 'More' like the horse leech's daughter, until he that provides has no more to give It is the husband's duty to bring into the house, and it is the duty of the wife to see that none goes wrongfully out of it A man gets a wife to look after his affairs, and to assist him in his journey through life to educate and prepare his children for a proper station in life, and not to dissipate his property The husband's interest should be the wife's care and her greatest ambition carry her no further than his welfare or happiness, together with that of her children This should be her sole aim, and the theatre of her exploits in the bosom of her family, where she may do as much towards making a fortune, as he can in the counting-room or the work shop It is not the money earned that makes a man wealthy—it is what he saves from his earning Self gratification in dress or indulgence in appetite or more company than his purse can well entertain are equally pernicious, the first adds vanity to extravagance, the second fastens a doctors bill to a long butcher's account and the latter brings intemperance the worst of all evils in its train —N Y Organ

H G Farrell's Genuine Arabian Liniment

is a most extraordinary medicine the truth of which is placed beyond doubt by the cures also of the article and the many certificates daily performed by it which, previously had resisted all other medicines and skill of the most physicians in the world It is compounded of balsamic extracts and gums peculiar to Arabia—possessing in a most rare degree all the stimulating anodyne penetrating, anodyne, and resolvent properties and the several which ages are needed by the Surgeons of the Desert with such unrivalled success, in curing the diseases of both man and beast

Read the following remarkable cure which speaks loudly of itself in place H G FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT for beyond any aim far vended!

Mr H G Farrell—Dear Sir Actuated by a sense of gratitude, I subjoin the following as an instance of the validity of your genuine Liniment My child three years old was suddenly attacked with a terrible disease which resisted the skill and medicated treatment of the physicians Her limbs became so rigid that not a joint could be bent the flesh turned black and cold and she naturally deprived of feeling the eyes fixed presently closed and altogether blind following this was deafness to all sounds the spine became contracted and so curved that when lying on its back the head and heels only touched Indeed the child presented every appearance of being dead Immediately on the attack the family physician was called in and further advice had been resorted to it is fair to say but all in vain all the skill was baffled in this case and various rubefacient liniments applied A consultation of physicians was then held, but to no purpose, the case was then laid before the Medical Society but nothing could be suggested with it had not already been done and the doctors told me he could do nothing more We then commenced applying your Liniment freely over the entire length of the spine, and you may imagine a parent's joy, when after a few applications, returning animation was apparent, and it rapidly recovered with the exception of sight which did not become perfect for near a month The child is now healthy and robust, as can be Two other cases of the same kind occurred previously in my neighborhood all of which died when there is no doubt if your Liniment had been used they would have recovered

PROFESSOR ALEX C BARRY'S

TRICOPHEROUS, or Medicated Compound,

FOR beautifying improving, and preserving the Hair curing cuts bruises burns stings rheumatism and all irritations of the skin A preparation the sale of which amounts to one million of bottles annually would seem to need no advertisement but as the thousands who purchase use and approve of it have probably no need of the enormous extent of the business done by Professor Barry he gives herewith a plain statement of facts derived from his books and with them renders his earnest and hearty thanks to his innumerable patrons

Professor Barry's accounts of sales for the year 1852 show that during that year about 910 000 bottles of his Tricopherous were disposed of and that the cash product of this immense sale was nearly $400 000

This plain unvarnished tale is a better commentary on the value of the article than any thing its inventor could say If it were not peerless in its effect upon the hair—if it were not invaluable as a tonic and remedy for cuts bruises burns skin diseases &c—it would not, of course be so universally in demand The wealthy portion of the public would buy it at any price but Professor Barry has reduced it to a figure so low that the poorest can avail themselves of its benefits

Sold in large bottles for 25 cents at whole sale and retail at the manufactory and depot 197 Broadway New York and by the principal merchant and druggists throughout the United States and Canada Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain France &c

[illegible] Spring & Summer Medicine

[illegible] ts for a Pint Bottle, and 37 1-2 [illegible] for a Quart Bottle of

The People's Medicine!

DR. LANGLEY'S

[illegible] Yellow Dock, Wild Cherry, Prickly Ash, [illegible], Thoroughwort, and Rhubarb

ROOT and HERB BITTERS!

Medicine in the World for [illegible] [illegible] one and I'll do you good."

This invaluable compound has now been before the public three years, during which time nearly One Hundred Thousand Bottles have been used, proving it the most popular Medicine of the day. [illegible] poisonous drugs or minerals such as Opium, Antimony, or Mercury, under any of their [illegible] headed kill all forms compose any part of [these] Bitters. The medicinal virtues of the best Herbs and Barks in the world are so compounded as to act in concert with nature. They [will] eradicate from the system Liver Complaint—that main wheel of so many diseases—Jaundice, Bile, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Humors of the Blood and Skin, Indigestion, Nervous Headaches, General Debility, and the host of kindred diseases arising from a disordered stomach and bad humors blood. On the approach of warm weather most persons are troubled with Languor, Drowsiness and general lassitude of the system, which if neglected leads to Jaundice, loss of Appetite, Indigestion, Debility and decline. Langley's Bitters are just the thing to obviate all difficulties of the kind. They regulate the bowels, stimulate the circulation, purify the blood and by a constant use [illegible] diseases so common in Spring and summer. Coughs and Colds are by its use broken up and cured at once. In short this medicine is suited for all ages and conditions and in all climates. It always does good and never does hurt. No lying certificates, no flaming handbills or costly wrappers are used to puff it into notice. All who try it will say, as more than 200,000 persons can testify, that one Bottle will do them more good than forty Latin prescriptions of poisonous drugs which so many persons are annually killed. The effect of this medicine upon the system is most wonderful—Its healing, cleansing and purifying qualities operate with magic like power upon classes of diseases for which they are recommended. All who use them like them, because they ARE what they PROFESS to be.

Sold in Bangor, Oldtown, Orono, Brewer, Hampden and Frankfort, and by all dealers in Medicines. Bangor—Ingraham & Fuller, and Guild & Harlow, Wholesale Agents to the trade, to sell again. [illegible] street Boston, is the Wholesale Depot.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL!

FOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c. The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitude, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact as a remedy for the above complaints it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested and its virtues proclaimed by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found, the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, loss of MEMORY, CONFUSION, thoughts of Self Destruction, fear of Insanity, &c. It will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders, emissions &c., were incurable. This however is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has, and is constantly curing these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show.

Dr. Woodward of the Massachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this cordial, thus:—"It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients while in Boston procured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me, says Dr. W., I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the meantime he purchased some of your Cordial, which has affected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend when ever an opportunity occur."

The nature of the maladies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question, and the proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidently obtained, but [illegible] is positive and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions [illegible] will be found the happy parents of healthy offspring, which would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS

have not in a single instance that has been authenticated given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures after patients had been abandoned and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION

Of those who have used this Extract is—"I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose (different Sarsaparillas) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am satisfied that half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

Another says—"I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured, others prescribed this thing and that, but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely cured me."

Another says—"I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame and popularity, have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate Female but do good. Beware of all other Cordials &c. (try only this.)

Notice.—Persons conscious of physical inability from [illegible] above names may confidentially consult Dr. Morse personally or by letter (post paid) at his office, 78 [illegible] street, Boston. The necessary advice and medicine for the speedy removal of such disability will be safely forwarded to the writer's address.

Dr. M. is prepared to warrant a perfect cure in every case or take no pay.

Prepared by M. Morse, M. D. New York city.

It is put up in pint bottles with the words Dr. Morse's Invigorating Cordial blown on the glass. Price $3 per bottle, 2 bottles $5, 6 bottles $12, and $24 per dozen.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF LOSS OF HEALTH, DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION, AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD

Extract of a Letter from Mr John Lloyd, of Erw wen, near Harlech, Merionethshire

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

Sir,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you that for a very long period I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and frequent swimmings in the head attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief and at length it became so alarming that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melancholy condition I waited personally upon Mr Hughes, Chemist, Harlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do, he kindly recommended your Pills. I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.

I am, sir, your obedient servant
